

Examining the Theory of Islamic Awakening In the Thought of Imam Khomeini

Hematullah Shmouli^{1*}

Abstract

In Imam Khomeini's thought, two elements of stonewalling and dogmatism; And self-defeating is the scourge of Islamic awakening. The main component of Islamic awakening in the world is the stable approach of Imam Khomeini (RA), which promises the awakening of the weakest nations of the world. Undoubtedly, the thought of Imam (RA), which is crystallized in his spoken and written literature, is the main source of the Islamic awakening of the Muslim nation of Iran and other Islamic countries and even other non-Muslim nations in the contemporary and late period. He is one of the greatest founders of Islamic awakening in the world. In the view of Imam (RA), the issue of Islamic awakening is also related to the issue of revolution. From his practical measures to issue the revolution, it is understood that for the realization of this important (issue of the revolution) there is no need to use force, but the emphasis is on Islamic awareness and awakening. The awareness and unity of the nation, relying on Islam in the fight against evil powers, calling for faith and Islamic unity, strengthening the spirit of faith, declaring all-round support for Islamic awakening. The question of the article is, what is Islamic awakening from Imam Khomeini's point of view? The findings of the research show that Islamic awakening, awakening the spirit of awakening and self-belief and their anti-tyranny towards the Muslims of the region and emphasizing the inseparability of religion from politics, the place of Islamic government, the need to support and defend the oppressed of the world, the negation and lack of Commitment to the countries of the East and the West, anti-arrogance, emphasis on a single nation and negation of nationalism, they drew a message for Islamic awakening and revolution for other oppressed and oppressed nations of the world.

Keywords: Imam Khomeini (RA), Islamic awakening, oppressed nations, faith, self-defeat.

1. Member of the academic staff of Faraja Research Institute of Law Enforcement Sciences and Social Studies

* Corresponding Author: hshamouli@gmail.com

Received: 2022/09/17 Accepted:2022/10/10